With the 16 MP CCD sensor, your images are rich and clear, this high resolution is ideal for creating the largest prints up to A3 size, and allows you the flexibility to blow up and crop any section of an image to express your creativity. The Intelligent IS keep photos and 720p HD movies sharp and steady. Other highlights include Smart AUTO function, Scene Modes and Help button. The A2400 IS has a 16 megapixel sensor and 5x optical zoom lens, which is a 35mm equivalent of 28140mm. It has Intelligent Image Stabilisation IS in order to combat camera shake to ensure photos and videos are as sharp as possible. For the novice photographer there is Smart Auto which chooses the correct scene from 32 variables and adjusts the camera settings automatically. If you get stuck at any time there is a help button which gives guidance on using your camera and its different functions. There are a number of creative modes such as Fisheye effect, Super Vivid, Poster, Toy Camera, Miniature and Monochrome. Live View Control allows you to experiment with picture settings like brightness and colour intensity, then preview the results while framing. Face Detection Technology detects up to 35 faces in a single frame making sure they remain in focus with optimum brightness. Face Detection White Balance ensures natural skin tones even in unusual lighting conditions with Auto RedEye Correction eliminating redeye. The A2400 IS records videos at 720p HD which also has Image Stabilisation. Key Features The A2400 has a slim body with a metal front and plastic rear, but there isnt anything which makes it easier to grip. The buttons are easy to press and fairly typical for a compact camera with dedicated movie and help placed on the rear. <http://www.doctorbiokon.com/userfiles/jonsered-630-super-parts-manual.xml>

The camera also has an easy to use menu system which is cycled through using the dpad and func set button. When it is switched off, the playback button can be pressed to view your pictures and videos. The screen is fairly small at 2.7 inches, which is bright and clear, easy to see even in bright sunlight. The battery has a CIPA rating of 180 shots, we managed just over 400 during testing. We tested the cameras performance at focusing, shutter response, shottoshot time, continuous shooting etc. To test this we took 6 or more shots and calculated the average, so that consistent results were produced. Canon PowerShot A2400 IS Performance Portraits have pleasant skin tones, but do have a hint of redeye. With the impressive colour reproduction the images are great if you like to share them on the web on your favourite social networking site. Macros are fairly good, particularly as the lens has a minimum focusing distance of 3cm. At ISO 400 there are some white dots appearing, but a decent, fairly sharp image is produced. There is a loss of detail in places at ISO 800, with a slight softening, ISO 1600 produces images which are even softer with black and white dots now appearing, but will still produce images which are good for web sharing. The AWB preset copes really well under the fluorescent lighting, with the fluorescent preset also doing a pretty good job. Video Below is a video shot at 720p HD, there is no optical zoom during recording but you can use digital zoom. Value For Money. Canon PowerShot A2400 IS Verdict. The A2400 IS is an easy to use, pocketable camera available in a range of good colours. Images produced have excellent colour reproduction which will look great when sharing them on sites like Facebook. Detail isnt good enough for large prints, but there are a number of creative modes available to help you take unique pictures. The camera is also easy to use, with builtin help guides if you do get stuck.
